

Vulnerability Management Vendor Briefing

September 27, 2019 | Boston | Omni Parker House
Chair: Matt Bromiley

Decreasing the Attack Surface with Effective Vulnerability Management

Enterprise defense is no easy order – and unfortunately, weaknesses can manifest in a myriad of locations. One of the widest – and often mismanaged – attack surfaces is software vulnerabilities. As soon as patches are released, attackers are usually quick-to-follow with weaponized exploits that are delivered via automated scans and/or spear phishing campaigns. As the security of your organization matures, are you able to keep track of vulnerabilities within your environment – faster than the attackers can?

This Vulnerability Management Vendor Briefing will provide us an opportunity to examine solutions and concepts around vulnerability management, showcasing the current capabilities within the market.
